1. Target Market

The overall target market for Rowan Dartington is summarised in the document 'Rowan Dartington Target Market Approach', which provides the approach to defining the target market for Investment advice, and the Rowan Dartington manufactured products.

This document sets out the target market definitions for manufactured products (Models) within this context.

2. Manufactured Products (Models)

Rowan Dartington's offering is a Service to our clients however, for the purposes of providing target market information we have treated our services as products.

The process for target market identification for Rowan Dartington manufactured products is outlined in the following documents:

- Rowan Dartington Target Market Approach
- Rowan Dartington Target Market manufactured products (Propositions)
- Rowan Dartington Target Market manufactured products (Models)

The Rowan Dartington manufactured products (Models) are covered in this document.

Product Reviews, including definitions of the target market, are conducted in accordance with the Rowan Dartington Target Market Approach framework.

The Model portfolios are created and monitored using a disciplined framework. Typically, a portfolio will include a mixture of equities, collectives, and fixed income securities, all of which have varying performance characteristics and are selected depending on objectives and risk profile of the Model.

All investments used in Models are risk rated by Rowan Dartington to ensure they are appropriate for the risk profiles within the model framework.

Regular monitoring is undertaken to ensure the manufactured products (Models) are reaching their target market.

3. Distribution

Clients making new investments into Rowan Dartington products do so through Employed Investment Managers of Rowan Dartington, the SJP Partnership or IFA's providing financial advice.

Rowan Dartington Investment Managers and SJP Partners follow an Advice Framework (the 'Framework') when determining the recommendations they make which ensures the suitability of a recommendation, taking into account the client's needs, characteristics, and objectives. A sample of recommendations are assessed by Business Assurance to check suitability against the Framework.

A consistency between the Framework and the target market definitions contained within this document is required to ensure products are distributed to the target market. To achieve this, the Advice Framework has been reviewed to mitigate against conflicts between advice principles and our target market. Our Business Assurance team check against target market when reviewing initial and ongoing advice provided by Rowan Dartington Investment Managers.

4. Distribution Arrangements

Distributions Arrangements are available (where appropriate) for all manufactured products. These documents set out how the relevant products are distributed with the following cross cutting rules being appropriately managed:

- Act in good faith toward retail clients.
- Avoid foreseeable harm to retail clients.
- Enable and support retail clients to pursue their financial objectives.

These documents also confirm whether there have been any changes to the intended target market since the last review.

5. Vulnerable Clients

The target market definitions for manufactured products (Models) include vulnerable clients. The nature of our propositions has resulted in an older client base relative to the wider population and so age-related vulnerabilities will be prominent such as those related to bereavement, caring responsibilities, and serious ill health. However, given the breadth of the overall target market, many wider characteristics of vulnerability will also be present in our client base.

Our Vulnerable Customer Policy sets out the framework for the identification and fair treatment of clients with characteristics of vulnerability. The Advice Framework also sets out the standards that apply for Investment Managers and SJP Partners when dealing with vulnerable clients.

6. Risk Profile

Establishing the risk a client is willing and able to take with their investment is a key part of the suitability assessment. In order to assess the client Risk Profile, the degree of risk that the client is willing to take, their Attitude to Risk (ATR), and their Capacity for Loss (CFL) must be established. A Risk Profile Questionnaire is used to determine the Client's Risk Profile and to support the discussion on risk with the client. It is important that the client understands and agrees to the risk profile on which future investment advice will be based.

Clients should be willing and able to put their capital at risk and be able to tolerate a loss to their investment or initial amount invested. Our Models are not suitable for clients that are unwilling to take any risk.

It is recognised that in some circumstances that a Model may be selected and distributed to clients outside of the stated target market. This will be discussed, agreed, and documented as to why this is appropriate to the client needs, characteristics, and objectives.

Where a negative target market is identified for a client's potential investment then it may not be appropriate to proceed. Evidence of suitability and appropriateness for such clients would be required in order for advice to be given.

7. Concessions

It is recognised that in some exceptional circumstances it may be appropriate for our Propositions to be distributed to clients outside of the target markets defined in this document.

Should this Target Market not be appropriate for a customer's circumstances Rowan Dartington have a concession process. It is designed to ensure that where any requests or requirements to deviate from the Target Market arise, such business is in both the customers best interest and can be managed by Rowan Dartington. This will prevent undesirable outcomes for any St. James's Place

Partner, Rowan Dartington Investment Manager, Stockbroker or Client which may result from cases outside of the Target Market.

All concessions provided are personal to each clients' situation and will result in unique risks, these will be discussed and documented with clients prior to application. It should be noted that not all requests can be guaranteed as Rowan Dartington would need to be certain that the request is appropriate for the client and their situation.

8. Client Objectives

The Models are aimed at clients who are looking to invest either for capital growth with no need for income, Invest for income but with provision of capital value or a balance between income and capital growth.

All models are designed for clients to invest in over the medium to long term i.e. 5 years plus. The Models have a negative target market for clients looking to invest in the short term or looking for guaranteed returns.
