INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE: BALANCED

July 2021

This portfolio is designed to produce its return through a combination of income and capital growth, but with a bias towards the latter. It is positioned to be more defensive when markets fall, but also able to capture a sizable part of any gains in rising markets. The portfolio will invest in funds of equities, fixed interest securities and alternatives, with the asset allocation biased towards equities and a globally diversified geographic exposure. Currency exposure is achieved by tailoring the asset class selection towards sterling.

CUMULATIVE PAST PERFORMANCE (%)

Past performance is not indicative of future performance. The value of shares and the income from them can fall as well as rise and investors may get back less than the amount invested.

The chart above shows the performance of the Balanced Model from 01 Jan 2018 when the model launched. Performance is illustrated net of the underlying fund charges but is gross of the Rowan Dartington annual management charge. The Rowan Dartington portfolios are only held with the third party platform providers and the illustrated performance excludes the relevant platform providers custody charge which may be different depending on the platform.

The discrete periods are calendar years. The 12 month performance periods are to the last quarter end, the model is less than 5 years and therefore shows the full performance of the calendar years available.

For purposes of this factsheet, the portfolio's performance has been measured against the relevant Private Client Indices (PCI) produced by Asset Risk Consultants. The ARC PCIs are a set of risk-based indices designed to assess the performance of diversified portfolios. The PCIs are based on actual client portfolios and performance is illustrated net of all ongoing charges.

INVESTMENT OUTLOOK

The reflation trade lost momentum in June as the market narrowed and the growth factor experienced a resurgence. Investor concerns about the global recovery and a hawkish turn from the Federal Reserve contributed to this change in market leadership. The dot plot, which indicates where FOMC members believe interest rates will be in coming years, suggested rate hikes may come sooner than consensus expectations. This means the Federal Reserve will be more willing to step in to control inflation than some had believed, and the economy won't be allowed to run too hot. From many perspectives this move is healthy as it indicates strong economic growth, and financial conditions will remain loose relative to history; however, following the taper tantrum of 2013, investors will be weary of how markets may respond to Fed tightening. The US Dollar rallied and gold tumbled on the news; as US rates rise so does carry on US assets, driving up Dollar demand, while gold, which has negative carry, has an inverse relationship with real rates.

GENERAL RISKS

The past performance is not a reliable guide to future performance. The value of shares and the income from them can fall as well as rise and investors may get back less than they originally invested. The tax treatment of investments depends on each individual's circumstances and is subject to changes in tax legislation. The sterling value of overseas investments, and the income from them, is subject to currency fluctuations. All estimates and prospective figures quoted in this publication are forecast and are not guaranteed.

SPECIFIC RISKS

Bond: The fund holds bonds issued by companies and governments. There is a chance that some of the companies and government that issue the bonds will fail to make interest or capital payments or other investors may believe the security of the government or company has declined, both of which would reduce the value of your investments. The value of bonds are also sensitive to change in interest rates, for an example, an increase in interest rates may cause a fall in the value of an investment in bonds.

Equity: The value of equities (e.g. shares) and equity-related investments may vary according to company profits and future prospects as well as more general market factors. Consequently, the value of equities can rise and fall sharply at times and returns aren't guaranteed.

Emerging markets: This portfolio holds investments in less developed economies and invests in less mature stock markets, so its value may fluctuate more than a fund which invests in developed countries.

Property: This fund invests mainly in property (i.e. land and buildings). Property can be difficult to sell in a short period, so you may not be able to sell or switch out of the investment when you want to due to the delay in acting upon the instruction. The value of property can fall as well as rise, particularly if there are more people trying to sell rather than buy, and is generally a matter of a valuers opinion until the property is sold.
